Why Is It That

J. T. SHEWARD'S

MAMMOTH DRY GOODS HOUSE

—IS ALWAYS—

Crowded with Customers

While other houses are almost deserted, and are complaining of dull times, Simply from the fact that the people appreciate low prices, are coming to us for a reasonable profit. The age of high prices has gone by.

Less than two years ago we started in a small way, employing only one clerk and renting fully two-thirds of our store to a millinery house. To-day we are crowded for room. We employ a force and pay the best wages to the best salesmen and saleslad[illegible]. We buy every dollar's worth of goods in the Eastern cities, and no merchant that makes a personal visit to the Eastern markets twice each year. The merchant who buys goods in San Francisco pays the San Francisco jobber's profit and chants a profit on the goods he buys when he buys them.

Look at Our Prices—Read Them Over Carefully.

Catarrh.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold; indeed he declares that he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another, and yet he is always exposing himself; it is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of catarrh seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off, but another class of symptoms soon appear, and he learns to his horror that instead of getting better, his catarrh is but assuming a change of character, and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is often felt in the throat, or dryness in the throat, or hoarseness at times occurs; a sensation of dryness is

INDIANA.

The Democrats, like Belshazzar at the feast, see the hand writing on the wall, and their knees knock together. They now virtually give up Indiana, and are preparing to raise the cry of fraud as soon as Blaine is elected. The Oakland Times says: "The reliance upon the Federal election law to carry Indiana for Blaine is every day more apparent." It denounces the law and hopes that the people will not be, what it terms, coerced, or in other words, advises the people to violate a law of the land. The attitude of the Democrats toward the Federal election law reminds us of the couplet:

"No rogue e'er felt the halter draw
With good opinion of the law."

No man who believes that the ballot-box is the palladium of our liberties, and who desires that the elective franchise should be kept sacred, will object to the enforcement of the law. The erudite editor of the Oakland Times further says: "The Federal election law brings us face to face with just such lawless power as Hampden resisted when he refused to pay ship money on non-maritime estates, with just such despotism as people have always revolted against.

Now we will show the absurdity of the Oakland Times' assertions, and the able editor of that journal knew that they were absurd when he made them. Hampden was a patriot. He opposed the arbitrary encroachments of the crown, which attempted to raise a loan on its own authority; and on the breaking out of the civil war raised and became colonel of a regiment in the Parliamentary army under the Earl of Essex, and died from the effects of a wound received in battle. Charles the First claimed the right to tax the country in any way he thought proper; and Hampden the patriot rebelled. Now, we think that we can show so plainly that the cases are totally dissimilar that even the ordinary Democrat, with his limited intelligence, will not fail to see it. Hampden resisted tyranny and shed his blood in defense of liberty. Whereas those who oppose the Federal election law do so because it prevents illegal voting and ballot-box stuffing. No good man objects to the enforcement of the law, and to say that a citizen is wronged because he is prevented from illegal voting, is something that only an unblushing Democrat would have the hardihood to say.

Indiana will give a Republican majority because it is now one of the most successful manufacturing States in the Union. The voters there know that this immense manufacturing interest is due almost wholly to the fostering influence of the tariff. So overwhelming has been the tariff sentiment of the State that the Hon. Daniel W. Voorhees, the Democratic United States Senator, has been compelled to bow to the popular will and is trying to maintain the position in Indiana which the Hon. Sam Randall has so successfully held in Pennsylvania. But he stands pretty much alone in his position. The Hon. Joseph E. McDonald and other prominent Democrats are against him, while the copperhead, Hendricks, occupies his usual position astride the fence dividing the two factions. She will undoubtedly go Republican next Tuesday.

It Paralyzed Her.

"Oh"—short, quick, almost breathless—exclaimed a young lady at the Grand Opera House a few nights ago, as one of the stage lovers put a loud and hot kiss on the lips of one of the chorus girls. Then a laugh seemed to creep around the circle, and, as everybody turned to the young lady who had uttered that exclamation, she tried to bury her face in the bill of the play. But the crimson on her cheek wouldn't leave, and the young man who sat beside her tried to count the dados on the wall and look very unconcerned. But he would have crawled under the chair if he could.

Wind and Corn.

Santa Ana Herald, Oct. 25.]

We hear that the late wind knocked some corn down in the Newport district, but little loss has been suffered. On the contrary, the heated spell has greatly hastened the ripening of the corn, which having been planted so late, it was at one time feared might be nipped by the early frosts. The crop is safe now and will be a large one—probably the largest one ever harvested in the Newport district.

WHERE THE IRISH VOTE OF NEW YORK WILL GO.

The following dispatch was sent to Ford, of the Irish World, by Capt. P. M. Darcy, of Los Angeles:

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29, 1884.

Patrick Ford, Irish World, New York:—What proportion of Irish Democrats will vote for Blaine this year?

P. M. DARCY.

The following response, sent in Mr. Ford's name, was received yesterday:

NEW YORK, Oct. 30, 1884.

P. M. Darcy, Los Angeles:—About 50 per cent.

ROBERT E. FORD.

Fifty per cent. of the Irish Democrats drawn from the Democratic ranks will paralyze Cleveland's alleged majority and give the State to Blaine, even if it were in doubt, which it is not.

CALIFORNIA should send a solid Republican delegation to Congress, if she would have her manufacturing interests protected from the assaults of the free-trade Democracy.

OUR MATCHLESS LEADER.

The last Republican demonstration in New York surpassed anything of the kind ever known in our campaign history. And never before did the central figure of an ovation shine so conspicuous and brilliant. Mr. Blaine's resources seem inexhaustible. After reading all his previous speeches we read the last with more relish than ever. His response to the clergy is a marvel of appropriate sentiment and forensic power. He rose to the occasion. He was addressing a body of men, every one of whom was learned in letters. They could but feel he was the peer of them all, as they listened. Then followed the banquet. It was given by representative statesmen, professional men, capitalists, merchants and citizens. A more brilliant, select assemblage of the wealth and worth of a great city was never gathered round a board. The occasion called for like genius and brilliance in their guest. The same versatility, the same fertility of thought and fact, the same great power, suited to the occasion, were ready, all woven into a word picture that adorned, while it instructed, the occasion, and the masses throughout the land read it as if oracular.

The wonderful resource displayed by Mr. Blaine in all his speeches during his tour, the remarkable fitness of their facts and sentiments to time and place—the grand propriety of all,

"Give the world assurance of a man."

Mr. Curtis, in the beginning, said the campaign would turn largely on the "personality" of the candidates. Any man who can prefer Cleveland after his two weak speeches that exhausted his brain, to Blaine, after such brilliant proof of intellect and statesmanship, should be provided with a home in some asylum for the weak-minded, or lunatics.

PYRAMIDAL HOPES.

Before the Chicago Convention, the Democrats built a pyramid down at the Confederate Cross Roads of Kentucky which they called the Solid South, and taunted us with its solidity. The base, a little obscured by the blue grass, was inscribed, "Lost Cause." Each stone was labeled with the name of an old slave State. The mortar was red—red with the blood of thousands slain on a free ballot. The Brigadiers told their brethren at Chicago it was solid for whomsoever they should nominate—be it Robinson Crusoe or Sancho Panza. Only two or three States were wanting to complete it, and the northern brethren have been on a still hunt ever since to find these few States that will consent to crawl up the sides of that pyramid, like a crab, obliquis eradibus, to take the unnatural place. They ask the Empire State of New York to dwarf herself for the first place—the great State of Indiana to belittle herself for the next, and the noble State of California to taper herself off for the apex. Noble positions! But next Tuesday we will probably see that pyramid standing just as it did before the Chicago Convention, with Geo. W. Curtis and Henry Ward Beecher alone on top high and dry, looking round for the mugwumps.

"Oh, that will be glorious."

Deacon Pogram will be that to line off a hymn, and Henry Ward will pronounce the benediction on the congregation of Confederates assembled to take a last look.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[This is the TIMES-MIRROR'S Public Forum. Those who would stand thereon must first give the editor their real names and be responsible for their opinions and statements.]

Spending the People's Money.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: It may be unfortunate for some of our official candidates that the taxpayers must walk up to-day and settle the largest city tax ever collected in this city. The honest taxpayer, however, would not grumble if he did not know that the money had a good portion of it been squandered, and that this is but a portion of what he has been and is to be called upon to pay, and that he has been one to pay special taxes of thousands of dollars, and he knows that not 10 per cent. of this money was used for the purpose for which it was assessed. I say it is unfortunate for some of the candidates. For the taxpayer will most likely look over his ticket with a little more care than he would at some other time, and if on counting the ballots there is found a good many scratches, I think it would be safe to attribute them to the scrutiny of the taxpayer.

Yours, TAXPAYER.

October 30, 1884.

POLITICAL POINTS.

How many reformers that have been crying "Turn the rascals out," have ever made a true return to the assessor?—[Kenton (Ohio) Republican.

That mournful female, tottering along over there in black, with a raven-bordered handkerchief to her eye, is Watterson's star-eyed Goddess of Reform.—[Baltimore American.

The Democrats say the defeat in Ohio is nothing. They are like a fellow who regards the falling upon him of a two-story house as a mere trifle because it wasn't four stories.—[Atchison Champion.

The Democrats have lost Ohio, an easier prize for them to win this year than New York, and from now to the end they march under the shadow of impending defeat in November.—[Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

The Independent party in Michigan had its shoulder put out of joint the same day that the Democratic party in Ohio had its nose put out of joint.—[Detroit Post.

They say that Carl Schurz really gets nothing for his campaign speeches. Judging from the result in Ohio he is the one who should do the paying.—[Philadelphia Call.

The imputation that the Germans of Cincinnati thought of nothing but beer, and how to keep it untaxed, has been answered by the splendid record they made on the 14th.—[Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

West Virginia.

From the Wheeling Intelligencer, Oct. 23.]

What of November? Can West Virginia be taken out of the Solid South in November? It will be if Republicans and labor reformers stand shoulder to shoulder, pick their flints and try it again. In West Virginia Mr. Blaine is stronger than his party. There are many Democrats who will support him on principle, and because Mr. Blaine has a warm side for West Virginia—Democrats who have no faith in Cleveland or his principles—Democrats who in their hearts prefer the election of Mr. Blaine to that of any other man, knowing that his administration will be characterized by sound conservative principles, a true American policy, and the recognition of every section of this great country.

LET IT DIE.

Why the Democratic Party Can Never Win a National Victory.

Chicago Times (Ind.-Dem.) Nov. 10, 1880.]

The recent Presidential election has shown that there is an invincible reason why the Democratic party can never win a national victory. It is that the youths of this Republic are not Democratic. The sons of Democratic fathers have grown up Republicans. So long as slavery and the war linger with the memory of Americans, the youths of the Republic will continue to grow up Republicans, and slavery and the war will be remembered as long as the public school system exists. The public schools have slain the Democratic party with the text-books. It is vain for statesmen to declare that there were as many Democrats as Republicans in the Union army. It is vain to affirm that the war for the preservation of the Union could not have been carried to a successful close without the aid of the Democratic party. It is idle for philanthropy to suggest that the attitude of that party toward the war in the beginning was a humane one; that it was inspired by the higher and better wish that the cause of the conflict should be peaceably removed, and the spilling of brothers' blood by brothers' hands be avoided. The Democratic party has been ideally identified with slavery and slave-holding. The Republican party is ideally identified with emancipation and the war. Therefore the youths of the country are incapable of being Democratic. Therefore the Democratic party can never win a national victory.

The boys who catch the ballots that fall from their stiffened hands are Republicans. This cannot be denied. The curse of slavery has poisoned the blood and rotted the bone of the Democratic party. The malediction of the war has palsied its brain. The young wife who held the babe up to kiss the father as he hurried to the tap of his departing regiment has not suckled a Democrat. The weary foot of the gray grandmother who watched the children while the wife was busy has not rocked the cradle of Democrats. The chair that the soldier father never came back to fill has not been climbed upon by Democrats. The old blue coat that his comrades carried back was cut up for little jackets, but not one covered the heart of a Democrat. The rattled musket that fell from him with his last shot became the thoughtless toy of his boys; but not a hand that played with it was the hand of a Democrat. The babe he kissed crowed and crowed for his return, and his unwitting and unanswered notes were not from the throat of a Democrat. The tear-soiled camp letters which the mother read aloud in the long bitter evenings while the boys clustered at her knees did not fall upon Democratic ears. The girl's sobs, blending with the mother's weeping, did not make Democrats of their brothers. Perhaps the father had been a Democrat all his life! The children go to school. There is not a Democrat on its benches. The first reader contains the portrait of Abraham Lincoln — that kind and sturdy face never made a Democrat. On its simple pages, in one or two syllables, is told the story of his birth and death. That story never made a Democrat. In the pranks of the playground the name silences the frolic some and makes the jolliest grave. The name never made a Democrat. In the pictures that light up the geography the face of Fort Sumter and the death of Ellsworth. Those pictures make no Democrats. The first page of the history contains a representation of the surrender of Lee at Appomattox. No boy ever gazes on that and ever after avows himself a Democrat.

In the higher grades the same subtle and unresisted influence is at work. The text-book contains extracts from patriots' speeches during the war. Those speeches make no Democrats. The great battles are briefly described, the narrative has no Democratic listeners. The strain of martial music runs through the readers, and that music makes no Democrats. Sketches of the great generals are given; the brave deeds arouse the enthusiasm of the lads, but there is no Democrat among them. The horrors and sufferings of the slaves are told, the maddened blood that mounts the boy's cheek is not Democratic blood. The curse of slavery has pursued the Democratic party, and has hounded it to its death. Therefore, let it die; and no lip will be found to say a prayer over the grass on its grave.

The late defeat need not be attributed to any other causes. The result was accomplished because the youths of the republic are not Democratic. That party is therefore without a future and without a hope. The malediction of the war has palsied its brain. The curse of slavery has poisoned its blood and rotted its bone. Let it die.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE TIVOLI THEATER.—An article appeared in the Herald of Thursday, signed "Thespis," evidently intended as a reply to the criticism of the TIMES on Miss Fay Templeton's appearance at the Tivoli Theater on Sunday night. When "Thespis" says the manager of the opera company received no money for its appearance at the Tivoli, he deliberately tells an untruth, and he knows it. As to his knowledge of what Willie Winter says of Miss Templeton's voice, that can only possibly be from hearsay, because Willie Winter is too fastidious to associate with a "Hamfatter." The TIMES reiterates what it said in Tuesday's issue—that Miss Templeton cannot sing, and that the Tivoli is not a first-class theater; and it adds that there never has been a first-class performer on its boards since it opened. The fact is, the Tivoli is run on the "dive" principle. A notice is hung over the door, "No return checks given." This is to keep the audience from going outside to buy their drinks, and would not be tolerated by even the patrons of a variety show, let alone the "first families of Los Angeles," who, "Thespis" claims, attend the performances at the Tivoli.

Political Points.

The success of R. Bandey in the fight for the township justice seems to be assured for two reasons, viz.: (1) That he will have the regular Republican majority. (2) That he is being assisted by a defection in Democratic ranks over Justice Ling.

One curious thing is that Democratic orators seldom refer to Cleveland or Hendricks, and never a word in their favor. Blaine seems to dwell uppermost in their minds.

The Herald complains about Hon. W. A. Cheney stumping while a candidate for Superior Judge. Well, it is better to do that than to lay around saloons and keep two-thirds drunk, as another candidate for the same office does.

The big fight in the city will be at the first and third precincts. The first precinct is at the new depot, and the third precinct is at the White House. Here the centers of battle will revolve. It is to be hoped there will be no physical conflicts.

The TIMES exposé yesterday of the secret labor convention, held on Sunday, in Odd Fellows' Hall, wherein some few vain and would-be leaders promised to control the votes of their respective labor unions, brought forth a general denial from members of all the different organizations that they had anything to do with politics as organizations. The TIMES knocked this little sideshow in the head.

Tom Mott, who has acquired considerable fame as a local political boss, has virtually been out of politics for some four years. Now he is in the field with his forces organized once more, and all against Del Valle, which means so much for Markham.

It is predicted by Democrats that H. C. Austin will have a large majority over J. C. Morgan for City Justice.

Uniformed Pythians.

The members of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, will drill hereafter twice a month. As the Grand Lodge meets in this city next spring, the members of the Order here are determined to spare no expense to make it a grand success. The presence of several divisions of the Uniform Rank from different parts of the State will greatly add to the eclat of the scene, and the drill contests for prizes will excite a great deal of interest.

Major Isaac Kinley.

The facts in regard to Major Kinley's late action as a Congressional candidate are as follows: He sent in his resignation to the Greenback County Central Committee. Several of the members waited upon him and persuaded him to withdraw his resignation, which he did. The ball where the meeting was held was well filled, and Del Valle spoke for nearly an hour. At the close of his speech Colonel Flournoy arose and commenced what he intended should be an eloquent address, as follows: "My friends and fellow citizens, after listening to the address of my gifted predecessor, and hearing the record of the Republican candidate for President, who is there that can vote for him?" He paused at this moment to take breath, when nearly the whole audience shouted with united voice, "Millions of them!" The gallant Colonel flushed up a little and sat down. His speech ended right there.

COURTHOUSE REVELATIONS.

Some Startling Facts Which Will Interest Taxpayers Just Now.

WHERE SOME OF THE MONEY GOES.

Queer Doings in the County Clerk's Office—Deputies Who Draw Double Pay When Present and Regular Pay When Absent.

In five days the people of Los Angeles county will be called upon to choose county officials for the ensuing two years. The question is of the greatest importance, and with taxpayers is not generally viewed from a partisan standpoint. It is useless to deny that there is much dissatisfaction with the present state of affairs. The city and county taxes this year within the city limits are $2.77 upon the $100, which will realize a sum larger than ever before in the history of the county. This rate means that a man with the moderate sum of $1,000 in his possession will be called upon by the tax collector next year to pay $27.70 and the taxes upon many a little home in this city owned by persons in straitened circumstances will amount the coming year to a sum possibly more than the owner is ordinarily able to save during the year. The question is frequently heard on the streets, "Where does the money collected go to?" This question is a hard one to answer, but the TIMES is prepared this morning to present some figures to the taxpayers of the county which are "mighty interesting reading." The man who earns a salary barely sufficient to meet his current expenses and is called upon to pay a heavy tax for the privilege of living in the City of the Angels has a right to know how the public funds are spent. There is no question concerning the correctness of the statements made. They are part of the public record, and any taxpayer who doubts their correctness is invited to step into the office of the Auditor and satisfy himself that the amounts named have been actually drawn. Besides this, the facts given are admitted by the parties concerned, but they plead some mitigating circumstances which will scarcely be sufficient to satisfy the dear public who have to foot the bills.

Mr. A. W. Potts has been County Clerk of Los Angeles county for fourteen years.

THE "INVINCIBLE POTTS"

is the title the Democracy have bestowed upon him, and his name was placed on the ticket this year as the leaven which was to leaven the lump. He receives a handsome salary from the county for the services which he is supposed to perform, but which, as before stated in the TIMES, during the past year or two have chiefly been performed by deputies.

Mr. A. Norton is a deputy in the Clerk's office, and has held the position for several years. Early last spring, when the extra session of the Legislature was called, Mr. Norton received the appointment of Enrolling Clerk of the Assembly, and was absent from his post of duty in this city, holding a position at Sacramento through all the proceedings of that memorable Democratic body. Not many months ago he was favored as was Mr. Norton during this period. While the golden ducats rolled into his pockets steadily at the Capital his $100 salary at the courthouse kept marching on like John Brown's soul of old. When Mr. Norton returned he presented his claims. The Auditor, the present incumbent and candidate for the same office, kindly allowed them, and the record (which all can inspect) shows that warrants No. 312, 551, 798, 1,068, 1,292, and 1,552, each for $100, were drawn in favor of A. Norton for salary for the months of January, February, March, April, May and June, 1884, respectively.

Mr. Fred. Potts, the son of the "Invincible," completed his education in Oakland last year, and on his return was appointed as an extra deputy in his father's office, at a salary of $100 a month. Such positions do not hang upon every bush, and it is certain that quite a number of young men would be willing to serve their country from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. for an equal, if not a less, compensation. But the time for completing the Great Register of Los Angeles arrived, and during the months of August and September an hour or two of night work was required in order to complete the lists. Mr. Potts, Jr., did not let this glorious opportunity in the interest of reform slip, as the following entries, taken from the Auditor's stubs open to the inspection of all), will show.

Warrant No. 1982, for $100, was drawn August 30th, 1884, in favor of Fred. W. Potts for salary as deputy clerk in August, 1884.

Warrant 1993, for $150, was drawn Sept. 4th, 1884, in favor of Fred. W. Potts for salary as deputy clerk in August, 1884.

Warrant 2343, for $100, was drawn September 8th, 1884, in favor of Fred. W. Potts for salary as deputy clerk in September, 1884.

Warrant 2282, for $165, was drawn October 9th, 1884 in favor of Fred. W. Potts for salary as deputy clerk in September, 1884.

It thus appears that during the month of August Mr. Potts, Jr., realized $250 and upwards. This is to keep the dear kind father, an indulgent Board of Supervisors and an accommodating Auditor.

Here the public records of the Auditor concerning these remarkable transactions cease, but the TIMES has it upon excellent authority, although not able to furnish conclusive proof, that in several other cases there has been "addition, division and silence" between incumbents of the offices of County Clerk, the Board of Supervisors and the Auditor. It is almost certain that the head clerk, Mr. E. H. Owens, drew a salary during his absence last year, and after the developments thus far brought to light, it would not be very surprising if all of the clerks had enjoyed the same privilege.

The only explanation made by County Clerk Potts of the above transactions is, that in the case of his son the returns of the Deputy Registry Clerks were slow and necessitated night work. His son did this work and presented his bills to the Board of Supervisors, who allowed them and they were paid.

In the case of Norton, Mr. Potts says, the salary was drawn by Norton, but divided between Deputies Owen and Taney, who performed his work. But it does not appear that these deputies put in any extra hours during the time mentioned to justify the increase of their pay one-half. It will impress the average visitor to the court-house that none of the deputies are overworked under the present administration. While the Clerk is not unwilling to have these transactions go on, the Supervisors to approve the bills and the Auditor to audit them, the public will pay the bills.

The tax-payer who has read the statement above published, and, if he thinks necessary, verified it, will probably think by this time that the good old Democratic doctrine of change should be enforced in this county. As Brother Hendricks would say: "Let the books be examined." The County Clerk's office has been in the hands of one man since 1870, and we ask know upon the authority of that eminent Democratic document, the National Democratic platform, "that the long continuance in power breeds corruption." One opportunity to change is happily afforded at the present time, and the Republican nominee, Chas. H. Dunsmoor, should be elected. Mr. Dunsmoor has been a resident of this county for twelve years, and even his political opponents admit that not a word can be breathed against his private or official reputation, that he is in every way fitted for the position and would administer the office in a manner satisfactory to all. The time is short, and every voter must decide for himself. The question at issue is, shall the old regime be retained and the courthouse ring continue to pluck the people, or shall there be a clean sweep and the county government placed in new hands?

Change of Base.

Bartlett Bros. have made arrangements with G. H. Paine, the watchmaker, to take charge of their watch-work department. Mr. Paine has closed out his establishment at 27 South Spring street, and hereafter will be found at Bartlett's jewelry and music store, corner of Spring and First streets, Nadeau block. Remember the change.

Millions Will Vote for Him.

The Democracy held a rally at Compton night before last, which was addressed by Mr. Del Valle, Colonel Flournoy, Supervisor Levy and others.

TEA ADULTERATIONS.

An Exposure of the True Character of Green Tea.

As it may prove interesting to tea drinkers to know what they are drinking we reproduce the following experience of a reporter, from the New York Times, August 23, 1883. Speaking of adulterations he says:

"Two of the unmixed powders of pure white proved to be gypsum and soapstone, respectively. The third, a deep blue powder, was Prussian blue, which is an active poison. One of the mixed powders contained 5 per cent. of this active poison, and the other 10 per cent. These powders, pale blue in color, are the material used in giving to tea the pale green, which so many tea buyers erroneously consider a mark of superior tea, and without their use that color cannot be obtained. Tea so colored and adulterated was the tea rejected by Mr. Davies yesterday, and any one knowing the properties of Prussian blue will agree with him in characterizing such tea as 'vile stuff, not fit to be drunk, and distilled by the Japan Tea Syndicate, which refuses to ship any but pure teas of good quality in this package, is an absolute guarantee for the purity and character of its contents. The character, therefore, of both Eola Tea and the "White Cross" brand are established beyond a doubt, and the importers beg to call close attention to this matter of packing of their brands of tea

Hon. R. F. Del Valle.

Last evening Hon. R. F. Del Valle addressed the Spanish-Americans in Sonoratown. A large audience listened to him, and applauded at every mention of Blaine's name. Del Valle begged so hard for votes that he almost got down on his knees. He was followed by R. Sepulveda, who mentioned the astounding fact that the Chicago Convention met in the District of Columbia, in the State of Illinois, and nominated that great statesman, James G. Blaine. [Tremendous cheering.]

Runaway.

Yesterday a horse belonging to Col. H. H. Boyce and attached to a buggy was hitched in front of the TIMES office. The animal became frightened at the awning, which was being let down, and broke loose, and ran around on Buena Vista street to Fort street, where it was caught. The horse was not hurt, but the buggy was considerably smashed.

Pure and perfect pride of potions, prince of popularity!
Paragon to people's palates, praise the pure EOLA TEA.

REVEREND HANDS

Laid Violently on a Defenseless Woman.

ELLIS VILLA COLLEGE MADE A JAIL.

Madame Lassaugue, the Music Teacher, Battered by the Principal, Rev. D. W. Hanna, and Kept in Duress.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Emilie Lassaugue, late music teacher in the Ellis Villa College, swore to a complaint in Justice Ling's Court, charging Rev. D. W. Hanna, principal of that institution, with the crime of battery, alleged to have been committed upon her person, on last Monday evening, in the college building. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Constable Griffin, who soon brought the reverend prisoner into court. He was arraigned, and pleaded not guilty, and the trial was set for November 10.

MADAME LASSAUGUE'S STATEMENT.

Mrs. Lassaugue was interviewed by a TIMES reporter and made the following statement:

That on her return to the Ellis Villa College last Monday evening from witnessing the ceremonies in Chinatown, she found her trunks in the hall and herself unable to obtain an entrance to her room. Miss Hanna, daughter of the principal, came along and said, "Why do you want to come here bothering us?" Mrs. Lassaugue replied, "Where am I to sleep?" Miss Hanna then replied, "Outside; anywhere," and seized the hand of Mrs. Lassaugue, which held a small lamp, and the latter said, "Look out, you will set the place on fire." Rev. Hanna himself then appeared, and said:

"D——N THE LAMP!"

Mrs. Lassaugue then surrendered the lamp to Miss Hanna. The reverend himself then flew at Mrs. Lassaugue in a passion, throttled her, and shoved her violently first against the daughter, and afterwards against the wall, and capped the climax by striking her on the cheek. He accompanied the blow by the words: "Will you take that $150 and leave? If you don't I'll murder you," referring to a sum which had offered her in settlement. When he struck the defenseless woman his anger seemed to cool, and he commenced to reflect upon the effects of his hasty passion. By various influences, Mrs. Lassaugue was permitted to return to her room and have her trunks taken back. The next day she found the keys turned and herself a prisoner. Toward evening and managed to send a note to C. White Mortimer, the British Vice-Consul, who called upon her the next day, Wednesday, and advised her to commence a civil action for her salary, about which the trouble commenced. Mrs. Lassaugue affirms that she said or did nothing to provoke the battery of Rev. Hanna upon her, but merely stood firmly for what she believes to be her rights.

SHE WAS RELEASED

It is her belief that the whole trouble originated though the interference of the Reverend John W. Ellis in the affairs of the college. The Reverend Hanna, on being appealed to by her to fulfill his written contract with her, replied that he, like the rest, was only a hired servant of Ellis, and upon him was dependent for bread and butter for himself and family. He first pleaded his helplessness to do her justice, and afterwards peremptorily ordered her to leave the premises without settling with her.

This was done, it appears, upon the order of Ellis. A suit for salary due has been commenced by the Madame.

SERVICES AND HISTORY.

Last August Mrs. Lassaugue was engaged by Rev. D. W. Hanna to teach music in the Ellis Villa College, at a yearly salary of $800, including her room and boarding. She was also engaged by Rev. J. W. Ellis to sing in the First Presbyterian church, at a yearly salary of $300—a total of $1,100. Service was to begin on September 1st. The first day of October came, and there was no salary from either church or college. Mr. Ellis then proposed to get up a concert to pay her first month's salary at the church. The contract, however, gave her one-half of the seats for each concert. Mr. Ellis offered her $25 to sing in her own concert, which she refused to do on such conditions, as it was to be for her benefit and she claimed to own half the seats, as per the contract originally made. On having this difference Mr. Ellis requested her to resign, which she refused to do. On the 20th instant the music pupils were taken from her and given to a gentleman teacher. And last Monday the trouble culminated as above stated.

The facts, in short, seem to be, as gathered from the lady's very straightforward and evidently candid statement, that she was brought three thousand miles to fill an engagement; that the contract with her was broken, apparently in a deliberate manner and upon a mere pretext; that during the whole time she received only four dollars in cash as payment for services rendered, and that she has been turned out of a position which, it is not denied, she was amply qualified to fill, and left penniless in a strange city.

These are the facts as given by the lady herself. The other side, to be given by the assailant, will come out in the trial, and then be published. Unless Mr. Hanna can prove that he did not commit the base and unmanly crime of striking a woman, he will have shown himself worthy of universal public condemnation and severe punishment. "He who lays hands upon a woman except in kindness is a wretch indeed."

Mrs. Lassaugue bears letters of introduction and testimonials from Mrs. John A. Logan and from the British and French Ministers, Sackville West and M. Bonstan, at Washington, and from the distinguished organist Morgan, of New York, and others of high standing in Europe and America, which are unquestionably genuine and highly honorable to her.
